Wash a pair of "cut price" silk gloves, then a pair of Kayser's. The difference in their appearance after one washing will show you why there are more Kayser gloves worn than all other silk gloves combined.

THE SAFE WAY TO WASH SILK GLOVES Use only cold water and any pure soap. Rinse well and wring out in a towel but do not twist. Pull lengthwise, turn inside out and lay flat to dry. Do not hang up and never let a hot iron touch them.

Marriage of Miss Scudder and Lieut. Capehart, U. S. N., in Brooklyn Yesterday.

Dinners at the Army and Navy Club Last Night—Wedding Plans, Summer Plans—Notes.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hewlett Scudder, daughter of Justice and Mrs. Scudder, and Lieut. Wadleigh Capehart, U. S. N., son of Capt. and Mrs. Edward E. Capehart of this city, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 112 Willow street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Townsend Scudder of Tarrytown, N. Y., a relative of the bride, and the Rev. Dr. William R. Watson of Sea Cliff. The house decorations were white, pink and deep red peonies in vases.

The bride wore a white satin gown, trimmed with rose point lace, and her tulle veil was held with a cap of rose point and orange blossoms. She carried lilacs of the valley and wore a pendant moonstone set in pearls, the gift of the bridegroom's mother. Miss Alida Thayer Scudder, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Misses Lucy Howard of Washington, D. C., and Hazel K. Knauth of New York and Hazel I. Scudder.

The maid of honor wore a lovely gown of flowered chiffon with the bodice of lavender tulle, while the bridesmaids' dresses were of pale blue tulle with full ruffled skirts of flowered net.

All the attendants carried bouquets of shaded sweet peas.

Lieut. Josiah O'Brien Hoffman, U. S. N., was best man, and the ushers were Lieuts. Francis J. Comerford, A. H. Gray, Lewis Hancock and Everett Capehart, U. S. N.

Miss Scudder, the bride's mother, wore black chintilly lace over white satin, and Mrs. Capehart, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of gold-colored satin.

Eberle, U. S. N., and Mrs. Eberle, Mr. and Mrs. William Kearney Carr, Capt. Nolan, U. S. A., Capt. Chase, U. S. N., Commander Cronan, U. S. N., and Pay Director Martin, U. S. N., and Mrs. Martin.

Others entertaining at dinner at the Army and Navy Club, were Mrs. J. B. Rhodes, Col. and Mrs. A. C. Macomb, Gen. Harry A. Anderson, and Mrs. Anderson, The Hon. Commander Ralph Earle, Lieut. and Mrs. W. P. Ryan, Maj. and Mrs. James Conley, Maj. and Mrs. Edward C. Taylor, and Mrs. Col. T. Cruise and Mrs. Magruder.

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Rev. Dr. F. T. W. 1166 Piney Branch road last night, when the daughter, Miss Barbara Maude Knox, became the bride of Mr. Edwin Franklin Albertsworth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. N. Anderson of Washington Missionary College in the presence of 125 guests. The house was elaborately decorated, the color scheme being pink and green. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Clemens Homer sang a solo, after which the bride and groom, accompanied by their attendants, marched to the drawing room, where the wedding service was read. The bride wore a gown of white satin, with a train of lace, trimmed with orange blossoms and pearls. Her tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilacs of the valley. The bride was given away by her father, who is treasurer of the valley. The bride's Seventh-day Adventist, and a cousin of former Secretary of State Philander C. Knox. Miss Grace Seelye of this city was bridesmaid, and she wore a gown of white plaid net over pink satin trimmed with pink roses. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

REAR ADMIRAL CLARK.

Did Not Desire Retirement at a Higher Rank.

To the Editor of The Star:

Many would undoubtedly be pleased to read a sketch concerning themselves like that which was published in The Star last Sunday. Therefore, I thank you sincerely and Mr. Brown, who seems to have been actuated by the kindest motives. I have certainly no objection to being called a chubby cheeked or blushing admiral, but I should blush at the idea that my friends could suppose that I had been consulted in any way by the writer or knew anything about what he proposed to publish. What he says about rewards could give the impression that perhaps I felt that I had been dealt with unfairly. Therefore I take this opportunity to state that the suggestion more than once made that I be given a higher rank and retained on the active list was never acceptable to me any further than it went to show that my services were appreciated by many. I have been rather amused than otherwise at the efforts made to show that the orders to destroy the Spanish fleet in the Philippines were sent from Washington and that the suggestion that I could stay in a Brazilian port under plea of injured boilers or machinery was not in any way referred to me. I could not wait to hear if I was to be recommended for but one more number than the other captains and executive officers at San Diego. I expect to live longer and am assuredly much happier for having retired as a rear admiral at the regular retiring age.

C. E. CLARK.

Mayvond Effendi, secretary of the Turkish embassy, entertained at a luncheon at the Shoreham yesterday, having among his guests Prince Hoheloh, Gen. and Mrs. Yturbe and Gen. Oscar E. Braniff.

Owing to the illness in the family, the plans for the wedding of Miss Josephine M. Tomlin and Mr. Charles A. Burneister have been changed. There will be a quiet ceremony Wednesday, June 16, in the presence of the immediate family.

The minister of Nicaragua and Mme. Chamono left today for New York, where they will remain several days before starting out on an extended tour of this country. They will visit Niagara Falls, Yellowstone Park and the Pacific coast before returning in the fall.

The Searchlight

The Education of Dogs.

Elmhurst, Pa., claims credit for the only college in the United States devoted to the scientific education of dogs. R. H. Throop, its founder, claims to give dogs the training needed to fit them for police work and other positions of trust to which the canine race is adapted. He takes charge of a dog when it is a puppy and it requires at least three years to complete its education. But a dog who has completed the curriculum of this college is worth $1,000, and is almost sure of an appreciative master.

Dogs are taught to jump high walls, to climb trees, to rescue persons from drowning, to catch thieves, to face firearms and other weapons and to be trustworthy and obedient in all things.

In rescuing a drowning person the dog naturally runs into the water and swims out to the sufferer. But the dog with college training has learned efficiency. He takes a great leap which carries him far out into the water with much less exertion and in a fraction of the time it would have taken him to swim out. The value of police dogs at seaside resorts creates a constant demand for dogs who can rescue bathers from deep water.

Mr. Throop prefers to take German shepherd dogs into his classes, although he has educated others with good success. A trained police dog recently brought about the capture of a man who had murdered a girl in New Jersey, after the men in charge had given up the trail as lost.

Arrange for Convention.

Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the International Stereotypers' Union last night at the Raleigh Hotel for the annual convention of that body to be held in this city June 13 to 15. James J. Freely of Brooklyn, N. Y., international president, presided.

What Did Bryan Fear?

From the Chattanooga Times.

The public will wonder where Mr. Bryan found anything to justify his fear of war or wherein any paragraph or suggestion in the note not in the first one is calculated to wrench his heart, to which he declares the "prevention of war" is "nearest." This second message is simply a reaffirmation of the first—a notice to the imperial government that this government does not recede from its position.
